eat[®] right. Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics

About Us

The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics is the world's largest organization of food and nutrition professionals.

The Academy was founded in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1917, by a visionary group of women dedicated to helping the government conserve food and improve the public's health and nutrition during World War I. Today, the Academy has members in over 80 countries throughout the globe—registered dietitian nutritionists (RDN); nutrition and dietetic technicians, registered (NDTR); and other professionals holding undergraduate and advanced degrees in nutrition and dietetics; and students—and is committed to improving the public's health and advancing the profession of nutrition and dietetics through research, education and advocacy.

Members of the Academy play a key role in shaping the public's food choices, thereby improving its nutritional status, and in treating persons with illnesses or injuries. Members offer preventive and medical nutrition therapy services in a variety of settings.

Nutrition and dietetics practitioners work in health care systems, home health care, foodservice, business, research and educational organizations, as well as in private practice. As essential members of medical teams in hospitals, post-acute and long-term care facilities, and health maintenance organizations, they provide medical nutrition therapy—using specific nutrition-related services to treat chronic conditions, illnesses or injuries. Community-based practitioners provide health promotion, disease prevention and wellness services.

As a leader in food and nutrition, the Academy provides expert testimony at hearings, lobbies Congress and other governmental bodies, comments on proposed federal and state regulations, and develops position statements on critical issues.

Learn more about the benefits of Academy membership and how the Academy supports both you and the nutrition and dietetics profession.

Practice, Science & Quality

The Academy is dedicated to setting the direction for the profession of nutrition and dietetics through practice, science and quality.

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Health Informatics Infrastructure (ANDHII)

This online tool is designed to guide nutrition and dietetics practitioners through each step of the Nutrition Care Process while building a national quality improvement database with patient outcomes. In addition, it offers customizable charts, reports and visit summaries.

Code of Ethics for the Nutrition and Dietetics Profession

The Academy and the Commission on Dietetic Registration (CDR) believe it is in the best interest of the profession—and the public it serves—to have a Code of Ethics that guides professional practice and conduct. The updated Code of Ethics recognizes the changes in nutrition and dietetics practice and is responsive to trends related to digital health care, social media and the evolving use of other technologies.

Definition of Terms

The Academy's Definition of Terms List is a resource that houses terms, definitions and key considerations to support the profession of nutrition and dietetics. The terms and definitions are used in a variety of ways including organization requirements, public policy development, regulations related to professional licensure and, as needed, by academia, research, professional publications, employers, industry, practitioners and members. As a reference document, the definitions serve as standardized language for consistent application in practice settings and Academy documents. The Definition of Terms webpage also includes a webinar, article, policy and form to suggest a new term or modification to an existing term.

Evidence Analysis Library® (EAL®)

The EAL® is a synthesis of the best, most relevant nutritional research on important dietetic practice questions housed within an accessible, online, user-friendly website. With over 40 systematic review topics and 20 evidence-based nutrition practice guidelines, the EAL® is free for Academy members.

Malnutrition Quality Improvement Initiative (MQii)

The MQii aims to advance evidence-based, high-quality malnutrition care for patients who are malnourished or at-risk for malnutrition. The MQii is a project of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics, Avalere Health, and other stakeholders who provide expert input through a nation-wide collaborative partnership. The MQii offers a toolkit and a set of malnutrition electronic clinical quality measures (eCQMs) that together provide tools and resources to transform quality standards and performance of malnutrition delivery through shared learning of real-world approaches, best practices and data to identify remaining care gaps, reduce costs and improve patient outcomes.

Nutrition Care Process (NCP)

The NCP, consisting of assessment, diagnosis, intervention, monitoring and evaluation, is a systematic multidirectional approach to support critical thinking and timely high-quality nutrition care using the best available evidence. The RDN uses the NCP to make decisions when addressing medical nutrition therapy and providing nutrition-related services.

Nutrition Research Network® (NRN)

Make your practice part of meaningful nutrition and dietetics research. This network brings practitioners and researchers together to identify and design research for real-world practice settings. NRN is open to all Academy members and no research experience is required to participate.

Position Papers

An Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics position paper is a critical analysis of current facts, data and research literature on a specific issue. A key feature of the paper is the position statement, which presents the Academy's stance on the specific issue that impacts the public's nutritional status and is controversial, confusing, or requires professional clarification. All Academy position papers are generated from EAL® systematic reviews.

Quality Leader Alliance (QLA)

The members of the QLA network to educate food and nutrition professionals on quality management concepts and resources. Through the QLA's efforts, the Academy developed Quality Improvement (QI) and Change Management Practice Tips that provide guidance to RDNs and NDTRs and include 30-minute virtual and pivot huddles or Quickinars recorded by QLA participants showcasing QI and Change Management projects.

Quality Management

The Academy assists members by providing quality tools for safe, effective, person-centered care. These include the Standards of Excellence Metric Tool, which helps RDNs and NDTRs evaluate their organization's programs, services and initiatives. Additional resources include Case Studies and Practice Tips to explain steps for ordering privileges, health and wellness coaching, telehealth, cultural competence, laboratory ordering and when to cosign in medical records.

Quality Strategies

The Academy's Quality Strategies focus on paralleling efforts with major players in the national quality arena to educate and empower members to be RDN and NDTR leaders in all healthcare delivery models. To advance member knowledge, an Infographic, as well as the Quality Resource Collection with over 100 sources, was developed. Quality Strategies Learning Modules with CPEU provide insight on national quality strategy trends with Quality Improvement Project examples available to RDNs and NDTRs to conduct quality improvement projects at their organizations. The Quality Improvement 101 Education Package assists educators, preceptors and practitioners with learning and teaching quality improvement basics.

Scope of Practice

The Academy has designed resources to help members understand and describe the Scope of Practice for credentialed nutrition and dietetics practitioners, including the revised 2017 Scope of Practice for the RDN, revised 2017 Scope of Practice for the NDTR, Scope of Practice Decision Algorithm, Learning Modules where practitioners can earn Continuing Professional Education Units (CPEUs), and a Definition of Terms list. Scope of Practice in nutrition and dietetics encompasses the range of roles, activities and regulations within which practitioners perform.

Standards of Practice (SOP) and Standards of Professional Performance (SOPP)

The Academy offers SOP and SOPP articles and resources to help RDNs and NDTRs assess their individual performance needs. These tools describe competent levels of practice related to nutrition and dietetics care and services. They also serve as guides for self-evaluation and practice advancement, and, although not regulations, they can be used by regulatory agencies to determine competence for credentialed nutrition and dietetics practitioners. In addition to the Revised 2017 SOP in Nutrition Care and SOPP for RDNs, Revised 2017 SOP in Nutrition Care and SOPP for NDTRs, and learning modules, there are 17 focus area SOP and/or SOPP for RDNs on topics such as nutrition in integrative and functional medicine, diabetes care, eating disorders, and education of nutrition and dietetics practitioners.

Telehealth

The Academy has developed a telehealth practice resource webpage. It contains resources related to practicing telehealth, including a practice tip; information on policy, regulation and payment; and guidance on technology and telehealth documentation. There is also a quick guide for RDNs about practicing telehealth in the context of the COVID-19 national public health emergency.

When I first joined the Academy as a student, I wanted to find more opportunities to learn about the field of nutrition and dietetics, and I wanted to be engaged. I believe that engagement and opportunities are pillars for being a successful student and nutrition professional.

Policy Initiatives & Advocacy

The Academy's office in Washington, D.C. advocates for better nutrition policies, represents your interests in legislative and regulatory issues and promotes you as the leading source of food and nutrition information.

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Political Action Committee (ANDPAC)

Among health care political action committees, ANDPAC is the only one dedicated exclusively to food, nutrition and health issues. Funded entirely by voluntary contributions, ANDPAC is a non-partisan entity that supports pro-nutrition candidates for federal office. In addition, it provides the Academy the ability to work with candidates and Congress to advance the Academy's public policy priorities and raise our members' profiles.

Education and Training

Academy membership gives members access to educational webinars, talking points and resources on cutting-edge public policy issues. You can also access tools and training to help you effectively communicate with elected officials about the policy issues that matter most to you.

Enhancing Your Voice in State Capitals

The Academy works closely with state affiliates and state public policy panels to coordinate legislative and regulatory strategies for a variety of timely issues. These issues include consumer protection and state licensure, implementation of health care reform and enhanced coverage for RDN-provided nutrition care services.

Nutrition and Dietetics Advocacy Summit

Formerly known as the Public Policy Workshop, the Nutrition and Dietetics Advocacy Summit brings together hundreds of food and nutrition advocates in our nation's capital to sharpen their communication skills, take a deep-dive into key policy issues that impact the health of the nation and the dietetics profession, and develop new high-level personal and professional relationships.

Policy Initiatives and Advocacy (PIA)

The Academy's PIA leaders provide a link between you, Congress and government agencies. Public policy teams in both the state affiliates and dietetic practice groups (DPGs) are in place to discuss current and upcoming policy issues specific to your area of expertise.
